

Biography of Pierre-Marie ABADIE Chairman of the ASNR

Pierre-Marie ABADIE is an engineer from the Paris Ecole des Mines (1994) and a graduate of the Ecole Polytechnique (X 1988).

He began his career in 1994 as deputy director of the Lorraine Regional Directorate for Research and Industry (DRIRE) and head of the regional industrial environment department (SREI), in charge of Installation Classified for Protection of the Environment (ICPE).

From 1998 to 2002, he held a number of positions in the Treasury Department of the Ministry of the Economy, Finance and Industry.

From 2002 to 2007, he was industrial affairs advisor to the Ministry of Defence, where he supervised numerous industrial restructuring projects and the armaments programmes of the Directorate-General of Armaments and its reform.

From 2007 to 2014, he was Director of Energy at the Directorate-General for Energy and Climate (DGEC) of the Ministry of Ecology, Sustainable Development and Energy. In this capacity, he was government commissioner on the boards of Andra and EDF and vice-chairman of the board of governors of the International Energy Agency.

From 2014 to November 2024, Pierre-Marie Abadie has been Director General of the French National Agency for Radioactive Waste Management (ANDRA). He also chaired EDRAM, the International Association for Environmentally Safe Disposal of Radioactive Materials, from 2020 to 2022.

The President of the French Republic appointed Pierre-Marie ABADIE as Chairman of the Nuclear Safety Authority on November 13, 2024. He then became the first Chairman of the ASNR in accordance with the provisions of Article 9 of the law of May 21, 2024.

Pierre-Marie ABADIE is a Knight of the French Legion of Honour and of the National Order of Merit.